DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 71-75, 79-80, 82-85, 87-92, 94-95, 99-100, 102-105, 107-108 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by McGuire (5,865,834).

McGuire (Figs. 1, 4a-4b, 5-6; col. 9, ll. 60-64) discloses autogenous bone or freeze-dried bone anchor/plug 25, suture and suture holes 27 (Fig. 4a-4b; col. 6, lines 19-36), cutting tool 33 to cut out the autogenous bone plug 25, elongate member/drill to form passages for suture 27 in bone plug 25. Allograft bone plug can be provided from a freeze-drying process.

Notice that holes/passages 27 are formed by drilling through anchor/bone plug 25 (col. 6, lines 34-36) and have a larger diameter than that of the suture (Fig. 4a-4b). Therefore, the suture of McGuire can slide freely through the passages drilled in bone anchor/plug 25 as recited in the independent claim 71. In addition, notice that bone anchor/plug 25 secures first tissue (femur 14) and second tissue (tibia 12) and retains first tissue (femur 14) and second tissue (tibia 12) against relative movement relative to each other each as recited in the independent 91 because anchor/plug 25 does not allow a separation/relative movement of the first tissue (femur 14) linearly away from second tissue (tibia 12).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 77-78, 81, 86, 93, 97-98, 101, 106 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McGuire (5,865,834).

As to claims 77, 97, McGuire discloses substantially every limitation, including a freeze-dried bone anchor 25, as recited in the claims, except for the freeze-dried bone is a cartilage. Cartilage is one well-known type of bone, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to substitute cartilage for a bone tissue because cartilage is just another type of bone.

As to claims 78, 98, McGuire discloses substantially every limitation, including a freeze-dried tissue as bone anchor 25, as recited in the claims, except for the freeze-dried tissue is a tendon. Tendon is well known for high mechanical strength suitable for anchoring different body components one to another. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to make an anchor member from a freeze-dried tendon tissue for this configuration would provide an anchor member mechanically strong to anchor different body components together.

As to claims 81, 86, 93, 101, 106, McGuire discloses substantially every limitation, including a freeze-dried tissue as bone anchor 25, as recited in the claims, except for a process of squeezing water from a sheet of freeze-dried body tissue.

Pressing a tissue to squeeze water from the tissue is well known process. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to dry a tissue by the mechanical squeezing process as recited in the claims.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 76, 96 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 4/30/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response, please see the notice in the above rejection of claims 71 and 91.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
